

Ana Pinho has been chairwoman of the board of directors and executive committee of the Fundação de Serralves since January 2016 and a director of the foundation since January 2010. She has also been a member of the board of TAP SGPS since June 2017. She has been on the board of the Porto Tourism Association since September 2017 and of the Porto British School since April 2014. She is a former board member of the Porto Commercial Association and was formerly chief executive officer of UBS Portugal and a member of UBS España's executive committee of UBS España, before which she held several positions at UBS AG. She was previously an equity analyst at Schroder Securities in London and a financial analyst at Banco Português de Investimentos in Porto. She has a degree in economics from the University of Porto's Faculty of Economics, an MBA from the Cass Business School and a diploma from the Corporate Finance Executive Programme at London Business School.

She has taken several art history courses at the Fundação de Serralves, the National Society of Fine Arts of Lisbon, Christie's Education London and Sotheby's Institute London.